Drama Group to Recreate Tom Sawyer's Adventures

Boyhood pranks and adventure will have free reign when "Tom Sawyer" comes to life at 8 p. m. Administration Building Thursday and Friday and at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Auditorium.

Joining Tom in recreating scenes from Samuel L. Clemens' famous book will be his partner-in-mischief Huckleberry Finn, Aunt Polly, the Thatcher family, and Injun Joe. Others on stage will be friends of Tom Sawyer whose lives were woven together with artistic precision to give the classic portrayal of a boy's life in Hannibal, Mo., more than 100 years ago.

Colorful scenes in the drama department's presentation will be the whitewashing of the fence, the attempted hanging of Muff Potter, the boys' playing pirates on the Mississippi River, and Tom's flirtation with Becky Thatcher.

Directing the play is Mr. Robert West, assistant professor of drama and speech. Diana Nelson is student assistant director, and Linda Dare is stage manager. Robert Neely is cast in the title role.

In the preface to "Tom Sawyer," Mr. Clemens states that most of the adventures recorded in the book actually occurred. One or two were experiences of his own; the rest, those of boys who were his schoolmates. Huck Finn is drawn from life. Tom Sawyer is a combination of the characteristics of three boys.

Faculty Briefs

Dr. Richard Quinn, chairman of the department of psychology, discussed mental deviates at a recent meeting of the Maryville Optimist Club.

Calling this period an "Age of Anxiety," Dr. Quinn reported that 3,000,000 children in this country are receiving special treatment for emotional and behavioral problems.

"Some of the reasons being given for mental illness are lack of responsibility, unmerited rewards, and breakdown in American marriages," Dr. Quinn stated.

Mr. James DeMarce was one of approximately 100 scholars who participated recently in the Bi-State Slavic Conference at the University of Kansas.

Mr. DeMarce served as chairman of a panel which discussed "Hungary and the Soviet Union." Other topics discussed at the conference included Soviet relations with developing countries, recent developments in Soviet politics, contemporary Communist historiography, Soviet educational policy, East European philosophy, Slavic literature in the 20th century, Soviet poetry, the nationality question in Eastern Europe, and 50 years of Soviet politics.

Miss Jane Costello, MSC instructor in reading in the department of education, was the speaker at a recent meeting of the council of the International Reading Association.

MSC Gets Foundation Grants On Basis of Faculty Research

Dr. Robert P. Foster, center, confers with Dr. Edward Farquhar and Mr. James Shanklin about the MSC grants earned by the instructors' research.

The National Science Foundation has awarded Northwest Missouri State College two grants of $2,000 each in support of projects initiated this past summer by two faculty members in a program of Research Participation for College Teachers.

The grants have been given in support of research initiated by Dr. Edward L. Farquhar, department of chemistry, and James Shanklin, department of economics.

Dr. Farquhar's project involved research into the rate of deuterium-hydrogen exchange in biological systems. The study is expected to yield valuable information about the influence of structure upon deuterium-hydrogen exchange rates in biological systems and provide a better picture of the exchange rate in proteins.

Mr. Shanklin's research involved the analysis of the behavior of the volume and composition of household's savings over short term variations. He is interested in determining what factors influence the volume of these components and their composition and what impact changes in the composition of financial assets or debts would have on the level of income.

Each income includes $500 to be used at the discretion of the institution in further support of the research project or in other ways contributing to the strengthening of sciences of MSC.

Dr. Farquhar, a member of MSC faculty since 1965, taught at Emporia, Kan., State Teachers College prior to joining the MSC faculty.

A 1958 graduate of MSC, he received his PhD degree in physical chemistry from Iowa State University in 1962.

Mr. Shanklin joined the faculty here in 1966 after teaching at Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa. He earned both BS and MS degrees in economics at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Librarian Reports Temporary Plan In Open Hours

Mr. James Johnson, head of the Wells Library, has reported some changes in library hours.

On Fridays the library will close at 5 p. m. instead of 10 p. m. Sunday's closing hours will be changed from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The time schedule change was suggested by Dialogue, a committee of representatives from each campus organization. It was their opinion that more students would benefit from the library's services on Sunday than on Friday evening. These changes will be in effect until after Christmas vacation when they will again be reviewed.

Student use of the library during the period will determine whether the new schedule will continue after vacation. Students in favor of the plan are asked not to talk with Mr. Johnson or Dialogue about it, but to study in the library Sunday evening.

Daylight, Darkness Collide In Capote's 'In Cold Blood'

A study of the works of Truman Capote, written by Mr. Craig Goad, MSC English instructor, has been published as the fall selection of The Emporia State Research Studies.

"Daylight and Darkness, Dream and Delusion: The Works of Truman Capote," is the title of Mr. Goad's critical study. It was originally written as a partial fulfillment of requirements for the MA degree at Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, in the summer of 1966. The Emporia State Research Studies is the graduate publication of the college.

Major points made in Mr. Goad's study follow:

Truman Capote is one of the most skillful prose stylists of all time. This author, who came in to international prominence with the publication of his book In Cold Blood has developed in his writings a mastery of the three basic creative tools: the point of view; the delineation of character; and the actual forms and rhythms of the narrative language.

With his style as a framework and unifying factor, Capote proceeds to investigate both the tormented inner world of the mind and the complexities of the social and moral world of modern American life. His writings inhabit two worlds, the nocturnal and the daylight.

In Capote's nocturnal world, doom, despair, and death prevail. Frightening, abnormal characters seem to be enmeshed in helplessness. One concern dominates this dark world: the discovery of the character's true identity.

Capote's first short story to bring critical recognition was "Miriam," the story of an aging woman's confrontation with her decaying, unsatisfactory self and the ultimate despair of such a confrontation. In his story "A Tree of Night," Capote explicitly introduces the wizard man, the bogeyman of every childhood, who is so important to the dark side of Capote's fiction. This is the story of a young girl who meets revelation of self and symbolic death when confronted by a dwarfish woman and her deaf mute companion (the wizard man of the girl's childhood).

There is a vast difference of tone and mood when Truman Capote portrays the daylight world. His stories in this category are set in a public world rather than in the world of private terror.

Capote's novel The Grass Harp defines precisely the daylight form of his work. The heroine, Dolly Talbo, is in essence a "wizard man" in reverse. Instead of leading to the destruction of others, she guides their understanding so they may live for the first time. "A Christmas Memory," one of Capote's earliest stories, is daylight in mood. The beauty of life is revealed to a child through an elderly, seemingly deranged woman.

Breakfast at Tiffany's is the high point of his daylight fiction. The heroine, Holly Golightly, represents the value to society of the individual's search for identity. Her search for meaning is still in progress when the book ends, but her influence has given life and hope to others.

The two worlds of Capote's fiction collided in nonfiction when he wrote "In Cold Blood."

The wretched world of Richard Hickock and Perry Smith dashed itself against the safe, sane, insular world of the Herbert Clutter family when the two men invaded the Clutters' farm home and murdered the entire family. America read about it on its front pages during Thanksgiving week, 1959. After six years of work and study and involvement, Truman Capote produced the book

Nuns Living in Roberta Hall Enjoy Being College Coeds

By Marjorie Hitchcock

"Let's go discuss it with the nuns" is becoming a common suggestion on second floor in Roberta Hall.

Sister Barbara Felder and Sister Martha Schieber, members of the 3rd Order of St. Francis, have assumed the role of college coeds while they complete their degrees at MSC. Sister Barbara, who is a registered nurse, is working toward a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in biology.

A bachelor of science degree in business education is the goal of Sister Martha. They both entered the novitiate at Mt. Alverno Convent. Sister Barbara received her nurse's training at St. Anthony's School of Nursing, Oklahoma City. Sister Martha has studied at Conception College.

Although it is a new experience for them to live in a residence hall at a state school, they are enjoying the experience. Likewise, the women in Roberta Hall are glad to have added the nuns to their list of friends.

As may be expected, the college coeds were apprehensive about visiting with them at first, but are now eager to discuss campus activities, classes, theology, boyfriends, and other subjects with them.

Both Sister Barbara and Sister Martha realize that many students here have never known any nuns, and they are just as eager to explain their way of life as the students are to learn about it. They find many of the ideas about nuns and Roman Catholicism humorous and interesting, but are always willing to explain themselves and their religion.

Sister Martha explained, "It is a challenge to be here and talk openly about the different ideas of the church and our order. To be able to relate what Pausing to discuss plans for the day, Sister Martha Schieber chats with Jayla Washburn, Sister Barbara Felder, and Mary Lou Mullenax.

I believe will make me stronger in my own faith. I am glad I'm here!"

"Everyone is friendly, just scared to talk to us!" Sister Barbara commented.

They are continually asked how they received their names, what material goods they can possess, if they can talk when they are in the convent, if they can use mirrors, and if they will have short-skirted habits.

City Students Share Carcass Judging Honor

Roger Glancy and Tom Miller, both of St. Joseph, tied for first place last week in the Nodaway County carcass judging contest.

Awards for the two college men were provided by Consumer Oil Company and W. R. Grace.

Sister Barbara explained that when they became nuns they were allowed to select three names that they would like to be called. Now many nuns keep their own baptized name, she added.

They may own personal necessities and keep gifts that are given them by their parents or friends. They have the use of a car that belongs to the "community."

Sister Martha stated, "Of course, we can use mirrors, talk when we have something to say, and look in store windows. Why not?"

Both are looking forward to the day when they will be allowed to wear more modern clothes. Sister Martha's opinion is that nuns were first attired in long black dresses so that they would look like everyone else. "I think that time has long since passed!" she chuckled.

Bearcat Cagers to Open Season In Home Tilt With MCAU Champs

The advantages of height and speed will be pitted against each other when the MSC courtmen meet the William Jewell Cardinals in a non-conference game in Lamkin Gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Coach Dick Buckridge's Bearcats will attempt to turn their superior height into a victory margin over the speedy, well disciplined Cards.

The 'Cats handed William Jewell their most decisive defeat last season in a 106-76 rout of the MCAU conference champs. But, in their second tilt, the Jewell five squeezed out a 76-75 victory with a 15-foot jump shot as the buzzer sounded.

Bob Nelson, a 6-2 guard, is a sure starter for MSC. He led the Bearcat scorers with a 10.9 ppg average last year. The other starting position as guard is up for grabs among four contenders — sophomores Gary Goodson and Gary Howren and freshmen Tom Moore and Phil Stutzman. Goodson, 5-10, and Howren, 6-1, both averaged nearly five ppg last season. Juniors Roger Nelson and Curt Lantz are also bidders for berths as varsity guards.

The forward positions on the 'Cat roster have a pair of high scorers in sophomore Don Sears and junior Ken Sheridan, both 6-4. Sears finished as No. 2 MSC pointmaker last year with a 10.5 ppg average. Sheridan had a 9.5 ppg mark. Both averaged about eight rebounds per game. Two others who should be aids at the forward spots are Darnell Moore, a 6-5 freshman from St. Louis Sumner, and Leon Muff, a 6-3, 215 pound junior who loves contact both on the court and on the gridiron.

Sophomores Ralph Gifford, 6-8, and Ron Peterson, 6-6, will share the center position. Gifford averaged 7.5 ppg as a part-time starter last year.

The Cardinals, under the direction of Coach Jim Nelson, have seven returning varsity lettermen in Tom Sponcil, Otis Curry, Tom Dunn, Gregg Kirby, Wence Cunningham, Mike Marvel, and Bob Pence. Coach Nelson lost five lettermen through graduation.

William Jewell finished with a 12-2 MCAU conference record last year. This mark was satisfactory for the conference championship, but their overall record of 15-13 reveals a 3-11 non-conference mark and a relatively weak MCAU conference.

Sponcil, a 6-2 forward, has been the sparkplug of the team with a near 14 ppg average last year. Sophomore guards Curry and Dunn, both 5-11, are fast and provide a big punch in the aggressive Cardinal tactics. Dunn averaged around 10 ppg last season.

Kirby, a 6-5 forward; Cunningham, a 5-11 guard; Marvel, a 6-1 forward, and Pence, a 5-8 guard, are threats in Jewell's shuffle offense and varied defenses. The loss of Larry Holley, averaging 17 ppg, has left a large void in the Card's scoring attack.

The Bearcat defense will be attempting to improve on the 75.8 ppg average it allowed opponents last season. Improvement and experience will be the 'Cats' goals in their season opener with William Jewell.

Seniors Lead in Statistics Of Bearcat Grid Season

With its 36-19 victory over University of Missouri at Rolla, MSC ended its season with a 3-6 mark in all grid games.

The win kept the Bearcats out of the cellar in the MIAA conference with a 2-3 conference slate and a three-way tie for third place. Final individual statistics reveal that seniors led in four of seven categories.

All-MIAA fullback candidate Tom Owen led in the rushing statistics with a 4.9 yard average per carry by virtue of 462 net yards in 94 carries. Dave Bussjaeger carried the ball 30 times for 114 net yards and a 3.8 average, and Jim Johnson garnered a 3.3 average with 45 yards in 11 carries.

Leading passers were Don Orlowski and Mike Corbett. Orlowski passed 36 times completing 14 for 359 yards, and Corbett completed 23 out of 61 attempts for 283 yards.

In the scoring department, Owen led the Bearcat tally makers with 50 points on the basis of eight touchdowns and two points after touchdowns. Quarterback Orlowski and defensive end Marshall Tonnies were the other seniors figuring in the scoring with one touchdown each.

An all-MIAA and Little America candidate at middle guard, Bob Leach, led the defensive team with 151 tackles, an average of 16.7 per game. Other seniors in the top ten defensive statistics were tackle Ed Wiskoski with 73 tackles; linebacker Richard Marburg, 76; end Brian Ranum, 55; end Marshall Tonnies, 46, and halfback Jim Johnson, 40.

Other seniors doing yeoman work but not figuring in statistics were center Tim O'Rourke, offensive guard Paul Meyer, and offensive tackles Larry Matiyou and Al Borkowski.

In categories led by players who will be returning next year, Barry Monaghan, a quarterback changed to end, caught 17 passes for 380 yards and four touchdowns. Leon Muff received 13 passes for 181 yards to back up Monaghan. Muff punted 60 times for 2,372 yards and a 39.5 average.

Joe Spinello returned 12 punts for 72 yards and 6-yard average and 11 kickoffs for 184 yards and a 16.5 average.

Fran Schwenk was second in rushing with a 4.6 average on 36 attempts for 166 yards. Roger Shupe, Mike Beach, and Joe Spinello rushed for 140 yards and a 2.7 average, 127 yards and a 3.5 average, and 130 yards and a 3.1 average, respectively.

Ron Pawlowski with 78 tackles; Kent Sorenson, 57; Jim McGhee, 47, and Mike Beach with 35 round out the top ten in defensive statistics.

Intramural Manager Announces Champions

Larry Newman, student intramural manager, has announced the winners of the intramural pool competition.

The independent division had 15 participants with Charles Nelson, junior from Maryville, emerging as champion.

In the Greek division each fraternity was allowed to enter 10 participants. The championship was won by Glen Vander-Verf, Alpha Kappa Lambda, senior from Pella, Iowa.

'Cat's-Eye-View

MSC's winter sports program goes into full-swing beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the varsity swimmers take on Washington University at St. Louis.

The Bearcat basketball team and wrestlers both will get into action Saturday. Coach Gary Collins' grapplers will be seeking their ninth consecutive Graceland College Tournament championship at Lamoni, Iowa, while Coach Dick Buckridge's basketball Bearcats play host to the William Jewell College Cardinals at 7:30 p. m. in Lamkin Gym.

Coach Lewis Dyche's swimmers return six lettermen in an effort to improve on last season's 5-3 dual meet record. Returning lettermen are Steve Conner, Randy Hansen, Jerry Peirce, Mark Thomas, Bob Puck, and Paul Fields.

This year's edition of the swimming team will also attempt to improve on its second MIAA conference finish of the last two seasons.

The toughest schedule in their history is all that should prevent the Bearcat wrestlers from equaling their 12-3 dual record of last year.

Under new head coach Gary Collins, the 'Cat matmen will face such touted small-college wrestling powers as Adams, Colo., State; Moorhead, Minn., State; Colorado Mines; Ft. Hays, Kan. State; and Wayne, Neb., State.

On Saturday, Dec. 9, the 'Cats will host their second annual MSC Invitational Tournament.

Heading the list of returning matmen are a pair of All-Americans, 137-pound Paul Stehman and 145-pound Bill Rex. Stehman was 17-6-1 last year while wrapping up the MIAA title at 137 and placing fourth in the nation. Rex also won the MIAA championship in his class and was a fifth place finisher in the NCAA national college tourney.

Other returning lettermen and their 1966-67 records are John Crandall, 17-5; Wayne Garcia, 6-8; Stan Zeamer, 21-4-2, the best record by a freshman in MSC history; Rich Downing, 15-8; Allan Borkowski, 13-7; Tom Paulsen, 7-10; and Terry Hartley, 5-4.

Coach Buckridge's roundballers will face an almost equally tough schedule.

Their 10 scheduled foes posted a combined record of 142 wins against only 100 losses last winter.

Only new opponent on the schedule is General Beale, S. D., State College. The Trojans were 20-6 in '66-'67 and were co-champs of the South Dakota College Conference.

Dr. Harry Bowes will have a special interest in that game. An MSC grad, he is the new president of General Beale State.

College Students Coach Kids' Football Squads

Harold Gooding, MSC sophomore, coached the winning Kids' Football team, with the season ending last month.

Other college men who served as coaches were Larry Newman, Randy Hansen, Jim McCarty, Rick Arrington, Pete Meiderstma, Gerald Duty, and Pete Hager.

Harriers Improve Last Year's Record

Despite finishing last in the conference meet, the '67 MSC cross country team showed marked improvement over the '66 team.

Coach Ryland Milner's harriers accumulated a 5-0 record against non-conference opponents. These victories included wins over William Jewell and Tarkio, who had defeated the Bearcats in the previous season.

Roger Stucki was undefeated in the non-conference matches and Charles Gilkison, Clifford Nelles, Lynnard Phipps, and David Parker gave the team depth.

In the MIAA conference meet, the runners were over-matched; however, the team did improve on its previous conference meet by cutting the total team points from 169 to 126. Stucki and Gilkison finished 14th and 15th, respectively.

Next season the team will have all of its lettermen returning.

Bearcats to Take Top Records Into Opening Graceland Tourney

The sport of wrestling which will get under way for MSC at the Graceland Tourney Saturday, has proved to be one of MSC's most successful sports.

Wrestling began here in 1956. An outstanding wrestler that year was Doyle Thomas, who maintained a 25-2 record and is now coaching in Iowa.

In the 1958-59 season, Coach H. D. Peterson guided the Bearcats to a 10-0 record. Ralph Messerli, now head coach at Fairfield, Iowa, built a 40-10-1 record during his career at MSC.

During the 1962-63 season, Coach Jerry Landwer joined the staff and led the wrestlers to a 13-1 season. Landwer and the Bearcats continued with winning seasons: a 12-0 record in 1964; 13-0, in 1965; 11-2, in 1966, and 10 - 3 in 1967. Coach Gary Collins, who became Landwer's assistant in 1966, this year has received the title of head coach.

Dave Moore, wrestling during 1960-63, achieved a 39-5-0 record and is presently finishing school here. Ron Betts, 1960-64, compiled a 24-9-2 record and is teaching in Iowa. Ron Jensen, 1961-65, who had never wrestled before entering college, reached a 32-7 record. Arnold Thompson, 1962-66, accomplished a 26-5-1 record and is presently coaching at Clarinda.

Harvey Hallum, 1962 - 66, achieved a 43-9-2 record. All American Al Packer, 1962-66, set a 52-8 record. He is coaching in New York. Ron James, 1963-67, after gaining a 74 - 8 record, is coaching at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. All American Lonny Wieland, 1963-65, achieved a 38-5-1 record and is teaching at Maryville High.

The Bearcats have two outstanding team records. From 1962 until February, 1966, the wrestling team achieved 42 consecutive wins. Presently, the team has 33 consecutive home wins.

The varsity wrestlers in the Graceland Tournament this weekend will be John Crandell, 115 lb. class; Jerry Schropp, 123; Gary James, 130; Stan Zeamer, 137; Bill Rex, 145; Paul Stehman, 152; Rich Downing, 160; Bill Mueller, 167; Keith Burge, 177; Pat Olheiser, 191, and Allan Borkowski, heavyweight.

One week after the Graceland Tournament, Dec. 9, will be the MSC Invitational Tournament. The teams participating will be Fort Hayes, Hiram Scott, Luther, Wayne State, Graceland, Westmar, and Morningside.

Daylight, Darkness

examining and describing the tragedy, a book that crowded other best sellers off the bookshelves.

Capote's book has to be read as literature, as a work of art, fashioned out of the complexities of real life, Mr. Goad explains. Capote holds and gently turns the kaleidoscope bringing into focus elements of the American Dream which have spelled success for the respected Clutter family. He turns it again and parts of the same American myth are seen to be the causes of the destructiveness of the murderers.

Kansas, the setting for the gruesome deed, is the very center of the American Dream — "Midway USA," as the Kansas license plates proclaim. Mr. Clutter seems a symbol of the Dream, a son of poor parents who has found the good and successful life.

As the book opens, the two potential murderers are across the state of Kansas from the victims; mentally and socially they are a universe away. Hickcock and Smith are both criminals, sexually abnormal, and physically crippled. They are the reverse side of the American Dream; they represent what society finds utterly distasteful.

In a fascinating comparison between the Clutters and their murderers, the author shows that both are involved in establishing self-identity and in seeking things which have been withheld from them. The important difference is that in their searching the Clutters act within the bounds of what society considers proper, while Hickcock and Smith go so far beyond those bounds that they must be destroyed.

That they should choose violence to obtain their desires — is in actuality following the pattern of the mythology of modern America. Only those who have never seen a motion picture, watched television, or read a comic book would be able to deny this. Mr. Goad reminds us that in modern folklore, violence solves problems.

Capote concludes, through painstaking examination, that even through destruction there is revelation and knowledge. There are those among the living who will profit by this knowledge. The dark side of In Cold Blood is superseded by a daylight view and a hopeful vision.

Invention Enables Special Students to Bowl

Local bowling alley proprietor Mr. Virgil Napiecek steadies the device he invented for one of the children in the State Training Center for the Mentally Retarded. Mrs. Willis Dowden, director of the center; Mrs. Elmer Freemeyer, assistant director, and two of the children give the bowlers encouragement.

Mr. Napiecek's apparatus was featured in the September issue of "Recreation and Fitness for the Mentally Retarded." Saye Machine Shop built the unit according to Mr. Napiecek's plans. The designer has received requests from all over the country for the diagrams.

By using the bowling aid, the students gain a sense of achievement and develop ability to bowl. Some of the students participate in the sport without having to use the device and are building respectable averages.

Bowling once a week at Nodaway Lanes is just one of the activities for the students who meet regularly in the basement of the Horace Mann gymnasium.

"For Love or Money" and "Guns of Navarone" will be shown Saturday night at 7:30 in the Administration Building Auditorium.

"For Love or Money" stars Kirk Douglas, Mitzi Gaynor, Gig Young, and Thelma Ritter and is another film in the line of popular comedies that began with "Pillow Talk." Kirk Douglas is working with Thelma Ritter to marry off her three daughters to eligible young bachelors she has all picked out.

Variety describes this movie as a "witty and engaging farce, crammed with attractive players, elegant sets, glamorous costumes, sharp dialogue, and amusingly contrived situations."

"The Guns of Navarone," set in Greece and the Islands of the Aegean, stars Gregory Peck, David Niven, and Anthony Quinn. It is a tale of adventure in which an intrepid, motley crew of British soldiers set forth to brave unsurmountable odds to open the approach to the Aegean Sea to the Allies.

"An example of how to manipulate the elements of suspense, raising the tension in sudden leaps, each a little higher than the last and all combining in a cumulative explosion that will set your teeth rattling," was the comment given about the film in the New York Herald Tribune report.

Ambassador Program Schedule Announced

The annual Community and College Ambassador committee is now accepting applications for a trip abroad this summer.

Each year the committee selects two countries participating in the Ambassador program for two qualified students of MSC to visit during the following summer. This year the two countries selected are Chile and Japan.

The grant to travel to these two countries covers all expenses of the program including health and accident insurance from the time the member departs from the point of assembly until the conclusion of the program. The fee does not cover expenditures incurred by travel to the point of assembly; the cost of language instruction if required, or expenses of a purely personal nature, such as baggage insurance, shipboard or other tips, laundry, gift purchases, or expenses during optional independent travel. Candidates accepted for Experiment membership are eligible for loans, which are repayable without interest over a period of three years.

It is important not to underestimate the challenge involved, especially when one visits a country which has a culture quite different from that of the United States.

The Experiment is interested in applicants who show evidence of initiative and curiosity, who have participated in many activities, who demonstrate a faculty for getting along well with others, and who have achieved a satisfactory academic record.

If you feel you are qualified, you may pick up application forms in the dean of women's office along with other information before Christmas vacation.

the explanation that they would have hot water when the new pipe lines were completed, these students are becoming more unhappy each day that they are greeted with only cold water.

They are no longer appeased by the suggestion to let the water run — It only gets colder. The big question: "Will they have hot water any time before the end of the semester?"

Congratulations and high praise should go to the senior music majors who are working on their recitals.

Most of them spend as many as five hours a day practicing for the demonstration of their talents that represents the culmination of their college career. Why not compliment these musicians by attending their public performances?

How many students who continually complain about apathy on campus and the failure of students to support college-sponsored activities attended the Thanksgiving Convocation?

Will MSC students contribute to another low attendance record by not going to the Christmas dance tonight and then keep complaining about not having anything to do on weekends?

Thanks should be extended to the AWS senior key committee who spent so much time last year and this fall organizing the senior key program.

By this time most senior women are proud of the fact that MSC ranks with other colleges who extend the privilege of late hours to upperclasswomen.

Considering the college's policy on cheating on examinations and the new rules that are constantly being announced, perhaps someone should devise a plan to check students who ask for second meal tickets.

The cafeteria lines seem to be getting longer every meal, and nearly every day another student who lives off campus brags about getting a free meal card.
